

Introducing the efficient way to collect blood samples from sheep

TEGO[™]
Card

Collecting blood has never been this easy

Testing Sheep the TEGO[™] Way!

- TEGO cards can be blotted with blood from the tail docking process or by using the included lancet to prick the vein in the lamb's ear
- After obtaining a dime size amount of blood on the TEGO card, it can be placed directly into the included, specifically designed envelope to dry
- TEGO blood cards can be stored at room temperature for years without affecting the integrity of DNA samples
- TEGO blood cards are light weight and do not require insulated shipping containers which saves on shipping cost and adds to your bottom line

